

Enhanced Protective Driving Course

I personally found the training provided to be directed with a common sense approach to security and driver awareness that was then naturally combined with “hands on the wheel” skills training and development. Without question all staff of the Consulate General who undertook the training are today more aware of security risk, and are better drivers.

The most likely cause of injury to you or your personnel and damage to your equipment remains the road traffic accident.

On our Protective Driving courses you will be taught to the highest standard by UK Police qualified advanced drivers and instructors. You will cover all aspects of driving, from saloon cars to four-wheel drive, both on and off road. The courses vary in length from 3 to 5 days and can be geared towards your theatre of operations.

The enhanced driving courses run by Longmoor Training are not chauffeur courses. The courses are aimed directly at those wishing to increase their awareness in a protective mobile role.

Longmoor Training’s specialist driving courses suit those who are employed to protect a vehicle’s occupants, for example a VIP driver, Diplomatic driver or part of a Personal Security Detail/Close Protection team.
